Important information

Binding death benefit nominations

To provide greater certainty about who receives your benefit when you die, you can make a nomination, which binds IRIS's Trustee to pay to whom you direct.

The person(s) you nominate must be any one or more of the following:

- Your current spouse (including de facto)
- Your children (including step, adopted or ex-nuptial)
- Any person(s) financially dependant on you
- Any person with whom you have an interdependency relationship
- Your legal personal representative, which means the executor or administrator of your estate.

It is important to note that for the nomination to be valid your nominated beneficiaries must be alive and fall within one of these categories at the time of your death.

Please note that IRIS will not charge a fee for making a binding nomination.

At the time of a claim, the beneficiary has the option to take the proceeds as a lump sum or as a continuing income stream.

How long is the nomination valid?

If you make a binding nomination, it will be legally valid for three years from the date of receipt by IRIS. It is important that you update your nomination regularly to ensure that your wishes are met.

You may renew, change or cancel your nomination at any time. If your nomination is valid, we must follow it no matter how your circumstances have changed. For example, if you nominate your husband or wife and you later separate, but have not yet obtained a divorce, your nomination remains valid and binds us unless you vary or cancel it, or it expires.

What is a valid nomination?

To make a nomination valid, you must also follow these procedures. Your nomination must:

- Be made to us in writing on the attached form
- Clearly set out the proportion of the benefit to be paid to each person nominated (total must add up to 100 per cent)
- Be signed and dated by you in the presence of two witnesses over the age of 18 and who are not nominated in this form
- Be signed and dated by the two witnesses in your presence, and
- Be posted to us (a nomination will not be valid until we receive it).

You may also wish to inform your nominated beneficiaries of your nomination.

How do I update my binding nomination?

If you want to update or cancel a binding nomination, you must do so in writing by completing a Binding Death Benefit Nomination Form.

We will write to you to confirm your updated or cancelled nomination. We will also write to you seeking your instructions prior to the expiry of any existing nomination. You will be advised of your nomination each time we send your Annual Statement, and be provided with the opportunity to update your nomination.

Default option

If at the time of your death:

- You have not made a binding death nomination, or
- Your nomination has been cancelled, or
- Your nomination is invalid (for example, it is not correctly signed and witnessed, it is more than three years old and has not been renewed, or all of the people nominated die before you or no longer fall within one of the permitted categories), the Trustee of IRIS will use its discretion to determine how your benefit should be paid. Please note that where you nominate multiple beneficiaries and one of them precedes you in death, the death benefit will be distributed amongst the remaining beneficiaries proportionally.

Privacy

IRIS only collects information on this form that is essential for the administration of your binding death nomination. IRIS will not use the information about you, or your witnesses, for any other purpose, or pass it to any other organisations without express permission. You should consider consulting your legal adviser before making or cancelling a binding death nomination.
